

Task1: The maps below show the changes that have taken place at the seaside resort Templeton between 1990 and 2005. Summarize the information by selecting and reporting the main features, and make comparisons where relevant.

Considering these two maps, many changes have been made in Templeton since 1990 until 2005. First of all, many residential areas have been added to this seaside resort. In 1990, there were mostly bungalows while there are many large and tall buildings and skyscrapers in 2005. Following this drastic change, it is noticeable that many trees have been cut down and therefore, there are fewer trees available in this district in 2005.

In addition, many new places have been built which had never existed before in this area; For instance, there is an airport in 2005 and also a large supermarket has been constructed. There is an airport in 2005. Also a large supermarket has been constructed. The 1990 map depicts that there ~~was~~ were a railway station and some train rails around the city. however, the train rails have been expanded around most parts of the resort.

Another huge change was the establishment of a factory near the railway station in this city. however, this dramatic change also resulted in elimination of many trees in that part of the resort.

Overall, Some useful changes have been made to make the city a better and more convenient place to live in spite of some drawbacks like loss of many trees in Templeton as mentioned above.

Comment [Afarinesh1]: Both side of AND must be parallel.

Task2: Young people are much aware of and concerned about issues like the environment, poverty, and animal welfare than previous generations. What is your own opinion? Give reasons and examples from your own knowledge and experience.

Nowadays people are more and more aware of different issues like the environment, poverty, etc. in comparison with our ancestors. This awareness has many good advantages for us and for our world since it could help us resolve many of our current problems. The point is that this awareness needs to change into a belief so that we could do things about our problems.

One reason for this awareness and concern is that new technologies have been invented. Technologies like the Internet, TV, mobile phone, radio, etc. which have made it significantly easier to spread news among people of the world. Therefore, people are informed about different problems and issues more easily and more often than the past. For instance, citizens of large cities in Iran like Tehran have been made aware of the problems like air pollution via the Internet, TV, radio, etc. and this could help to palliate this problem much easier together.

Another reason to mention is that the general knowledge has increased to a large extent. These days, people have more knowledge about different issues concerning the environment, human body, etc. and therefore will accept different measures and precautions more openly. For example, people know more about the ozone layer and its effects on our lives and are more likely to accept measures to protect it compared with our forefathers.

In conclusion, this more awareness and concern could make a valuable opportunity for us to cooperate with each other to find solutions for different problems that we, ~~homo~~-Homo sapiens, have encountered recently; ~~However~~however, we need to concede that this awareness has not resulted in a desirable cooperation yet. Again your conclusion is not meaningful. It does not show the conclusion for the argument.

Estimated Band Score: 6+

Again the heedlessness on the most important parts of your writing (Thesis Statement, Topic Sentences and Conclusion) will ruin your band score. Also you have to balance your lexical resources (the level of vocabularies you are using) against your structure. The structure is good and mostly correct, but the vocabularies you are using are so simple.

Comment [Afarinesh2]: First of all try not to use ambiguous phrases like ETC. and also try to cover all the parts mentioned in the introduction. (ANIMAL WELFARE is not covered). Also try to use paraphrased sentences.

Comment [Afarinesh3]: The thesis statement does not follow the argument. Lack of Focus it has!!
